

Excess Wear

An excess wear charge results when the wear or damage to the vehicle is beyond normal vehicle wear. Any excess wear charge is determined at the time the vehicle is returned.

To help prevent excess wear, always maintain your vehicle in accordance with the manufacturer's recommended maintenance schedule. See your owner's manual for more details. For added convenience, SmartCare, an affordable maintenance plan, is available from your dealer.

Your vehicle insurance policy may pay to repair damage that would be considered excess wear. If your vehicle is in an accident, you should file an insurance claim.

Excess Wear includes such items as:

Exterior <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Individual occurrences of body, bumper or molding damage larger than 2" in diameter that cannot be repaired for $100 or less or any puncture.</li> <li>• Visible sand/grinding marks, rough texture, excessive overspray, bad color match larger than 2" in diameter.</li> <li>• Hail damage that reduces remarketability or impairs vehicle appearance.</li> <li>• All damage or poor repair of damage that affects the vehicle's structural integrity</li> </ul> Interior <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Burn holes greater than 1/8" in diameter.</li> <li>• Cuts, tears and singed areas greater than 1/2" in diameter.</li> <li>• Stains that cannot be removed and that require replacement of upholstery or carpeting.</li> </ul> Tires <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Tread depth of less than 1/8" at the shallowest point.</li> <li>• Studded tires.</li> <li>• Gouges, cuts, sidewall plugs or tires in a condition that affects passenger safety.</li> </ul> Wheels <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Broken, cracked, bent or mismatched wheels or wheel covers.</li> </ul> Glass and Lenses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Damage greater than 1/2" in diameter or any hole.</li> <li>• Cracks greater than 2" in length or any hole.</li> </ul>	Mechanical/Electrical &amp; Maintenance <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Non-operational or malfunctioning equipment.</li> <li>• Failures of vehicle systems that result from not adhering to manufacturer's maintenance requirements.</li> </ul> Missing and Broken Parts <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Any missing equipment (includes keyless entry remote) or broken parts.</li> <li>• Any replacement part that does not meet manufacturer's specifications of equal quality and design.</li> <li>• Replacement sheet metal must be new original equipment manufacturer parts if you have lease agreement #9.</li> </ul> Alterations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Any modification, including but not limited to suspension modifications, changing vehicle color or factory paint schemes, lettering or graphics, holes in frame, post-delivery customizing, engine adaptations, fuel system adaptations, tinted or engraved glass.</li> </ul> Note <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• All replacement parts must meet manufacturer's specifications of equal quality and design.</li> <li>• Replacement sheet metal must be new original equipment manufacturer parts if you have lease agreement #9.</li> </ul>
--	--

Excess Mileage

An excess mileage charge results when the number of miles driven during the term exceed the total contracted miles allowed. GMAC offers a mileage allowance of 12,000 miles per year or 15,000 miles per year. It is important to select the mileage allowance that meets your driving needs.

Excess Mileage Charge:

- The amount of the excess mileage charge is calculated at scheduled end when you return the vehicle. If you do not buy the vehicle, you are responsible for any excess mileage charge.
- The number of excess miles is determined by subtracting the total allowed mileage from the actual mileage, as reflected on the vehicle odometer, at the time the vehicle is returned.
- The excess mileage charge is determined by multiplying the number of excess miles by the per mile charge as identified on your SmartLease agreement or SmartBuy contract.